The story is based on a girl named Rachana who falls in love with a guy named Narayana Murthy. Both the protagonist and the antagonist belong to rich families living in Hyderabad, India. The story gives an account of their journey from young love to separation and maturity. The story also highlights the importance of family values and friendship. Rachana is a simple girl who falls in love with Narayana Murthy at first sight when she goes for shopping with her mom and sister Sujatha in Laad bazaar, Hyderabad city once in a week. Rachana's family is strictly against love marriages. Her father, Venkat Rao has a very strict view on his decisions. He wants to get his daughter married into a good family by taking dowry of ten lakhs of rupees. That time, Rachana is working as an assistant to famous fashion designer, Samira Rastogi in Hyderabad. Rachana keeps her relationship with Narayana Murthy a secret from her parents and tells them that she was going out of town for work for next few months. After getting married, she reveals the fact to her parents about her marriage with Narayana Murthy after coming back from Mumbai. After a couple of years, Rachana and Narayana Murthy got a son. They named him Pankaj. Things were going well till Rachana's friend, Latha came to their house for a visit with her family. The story will take many turns after the introduction of Latha as the main character. Latha is married to Manohar Reddy who is an NRI from Mumbai. She has two children from her marriage with Manohar Reddy, one girl and one boy - Anjali and Ganesh respectively. They come from Mumbai for holiday to Hyderabad during Pournami or full moon day in April 2013.
